

MAXIS GBN LOCAL NETWORK MEMBER WELLNESS CAPABILITIES

2022

Our network of local insurance partners offer solutions that help you improve employee health and reap the rewards of a positive, productive workforce

We work with nearly 140 local member insurers in over 120 markets worldwide to provide wellness solutions designed to help your employees thrive. Our local member insurers work closely with your local human resources teams to consider and drive practical health and wellness programmes, targeting specific health cost drivers.

We understand that physical, mental and social health determinants can all impact your employees and their productivity. To help keep your employees happy, healthy and productive, you need solutions tailored to their needs. At MAXIS GBN, we devise wellness solutions aimed at tackling these three pillars of wellness.

Delivering wellness locally

An important way we can help deliver wellness solutions is via our network of local insurers. Our network partners address the full spectrum of health and wellness needs in through one or more of these four methods.

- Education and awareness

This method focuses on communications tools designed to help with health literacy and knowledge, so employees can assess, adopt or change behaviours.

- Behaviour change programmes

This method focuses on encouraging lifestyle and behaviour changes that have a direct impact on health, including healthy eating, exercising, managing stress and sleeping better.

- Prevention and screening

This method focuses on services that enable health screening and early preventative measures.

- Targeted intervention programmes

This method focuses on targeted wellness activities for groups of individuals. These groups include, but are not limited to, people with chronic diseases, expectant mothers, people with high BMI, etc.

Turn over to the next pages to see the wellness capabilities of our network partners in their local market. The table is split by each of these delivery methods so you know exactly the support each of our members can provide.
