Your employee assistance
programme (EAP) partner:
anywhere, anytime

● MetLife and AXA in partnership

As healthcare costs continue to rise at a rate faster than general inflation the world over, it's hardly surprising that multinational employers, like you, are looking to tackle their biggest cost drivers.

Stress is all around us and, at times, can seem impossible to escape. Excessive levels of stress have been linked to negative effects on both your employees' health and job performance. Early intervention can help reduce the health problems, productivity losses and deterioration of job performance related to excessive stress.

To tackle this problem, multinationals need a service that is easily accessible, user friendly and available wherever and whenever your employees need it. Employee assistance programmes (EAP) offer an effective solution for stress reduction and personal performance management.

MAXIS GBN is partnering with ICAS World<sup>1</sup> to provide you with access to an EAP platform that can help your employees deal with a range of issues, whether emotional or financial, that can cause stress.

ICAS World is one of the third-party suppliers that makes up our MAXIS Global Wellness solution. We launched MAXIS Global Wellness to help you offer cross-border, locally available programmes, complementing the medical and wellness solutions offered by our local member insurers. To do this, we have partnered with a number of carefully selected third party suppliers able to offer a consistent service the world over.<sup>1</sup>
